

As a survivor, I see the silence from bands across the board. The silence feels like a way enablers preserve the outward image of our abusers- that of their friend, artist, or idol. When bands are silent it can feel like they're 'waiting out the drama.' We need you to speak up!

"Lily"